Ashford Group Architects is an integrated firm that uniquely blends architectural design, construction and project management services enabling them to create a seamless process from start to finish, delivering exceptional results within set budgets and timeframes.

The hotly anticipated latest reveal from Ashford Group Architects is none other than the revamped entrance at SKYCITY Casino in Darwin. It's hard not to be impressed when you walk through the front doors to be greeted by feature timber panelling with strategically placed strip lighting that feels like a work of art. Another standout feature is the striking 'Calacatta Gold' tiles from the Lea Cermaiche's SLIMTECH range of large-format porcelain surfaces sourced by Cerbis Ceramics. Each tile is a massive three metres by one metre giving the entrance a remarkable visual impact. Ashford Group Architects have also been behind the stylish and contemporary designs at TD Nail & Spa and Saigon Street eatery at the new Gateway Shopping Centre in Palmerston. Ashford Group Architects are building a seriously impressive portfolio of commercial, industrial, residential and public infrastructure projects garnering them plenty of accolades and glowing praise from their clients. Their ability to deliver outstanding results across projects of all shapes, sizes and designs is clearly evident with their back-to-back wins at the Master Builders Association NT Awards. Ashford Group Architects won the 2016 MBA Excellence in Building & Construction Award for the $800,000 to $1 Million Home Category for the luxuriously stylish Christie Residence in Muirhead. They've followed that up with the vibrant and contemporary Magnum Apartments featured in the last issue of Resident Magazine winning the 2017 MBA Excellence in Building & Construction Award for High Rise Apartment Building.

Oasis Dental Clinic on the Gold Coast is a shining example of Ashford Group Architects innate ability to merge great design and sustainability principles using natural raw materials, emphasising natural light availability, airflow and the connectedness of a building to its site. The modern design of Ark Medical Centre at Coolalinga blends coloured feature walls, timber plank floors, pendant lights, stone benches and on-trend white matte laminate to make it feel less clinical and more stylish and contemporary. Following the design brief for the new world class Berrimah Fire Station Ashford Group Architects designed the buildings to create a contemporary 'industrial look' facility using high quality materials and level of finish. This was achieved with continuous sharp architectural lines that complemented the use of portal frames, pre-cast concrete walls, architectural recesses and a bright colour palette. The results earned them a Commendation in Public Architecture from the Australian Institute of Architecture (NT) in 2014. Arguably one of the jewels in Ashford Group Architects' commercial portfolio is the Attitude for Men retail store on Knuckey Street. The striking combination of glass, timber and modern industrial elements has made an indelible mark on Darwin's CBD.

Ashford Group Architects create distinctive commercial and industrial spaces, public buildings and award-winning luxury residential apartments and homes. Their contemporary, clean and innovative approach to design is breathing new life into the Territory.

Randal and his team of experts frequently travel overseas for design inspiration and to view the latest international trends and styles, modern pioneering technology and sustainable principles to bring back to the Territory.

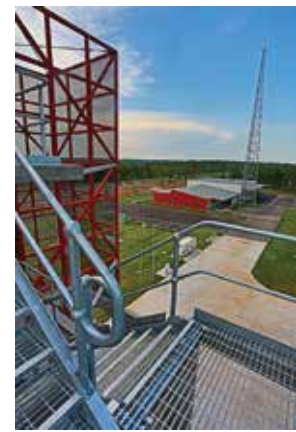

Clients attest to the team's energy and enthusiasm not to mention the level of service and commitment. Randal and his team have the innate ability to "see inside your head" and help turn your vision into a gleaming reality. 'The rising popularity of websites such as Pinterest and home renovation television series has seen more and more people tap into their "inner designer or architect" and take a lot more interest in designs, trends, different styles and textures,' says Randal. 'We take what they bring to us and put our spin on it to bring about the best possible design within their set budgets and timeframes.' Another aspect that sets Ashford Group Architects apart is they are architects who build. 'Knowing how to build your designs is essential to being a great architect. 'Which is why our team frequently steps out of the office to get their hands dirty on site.'
