

THE FINISHED VISION

Modern, contemporary and functional with loads of hidden storage solutions — this Cullen Bay kitchen renovation has all this and more.

The striking angled island bench is the centrepiece of the kitchen with 40mm thick stone tops that match the splashbacks with waterfall ends.

Integrated sink detailing.

Practical hidden drawers for oils.

The sleek graphic lines of the bench tops complement the new timber-look floor lines.

New double shelving in drawers.

'The customer knew the finished look she wanted, but left the rest to us,' said Invision NT owner, Brad Claydon. 'It's now vastly different from the original kitchen and has transformed the entire area providing a contemporary and functional living space with water views.' To achieve the look, the professional Invision team removed the wall from behind the fridge and walk-in pantry and the existing ceiling bulkheads, plus replaced the original floor tiles with new timber look floor planks that matched the feature timber shelving in the kitchen. The matt colour scheme perfectly tones with the Miele appliances and is packed with a variety of practical storage solutions from custom-made pull out bin drawer, spice bottle storage drawer and sink drawers that utilise every available space to the hidden water chiller unit at the front of the island bench. The decorative timber-look feature open seamless box shelving above the fridge, between the overhead cupboards and at the end of the base cupboards completes the subtle, refined look.
